The conference aims to ensure a good framework to present and debate the complex issue of industrial heritage (inventory, conservation, promotion, reuse), with the participation of specialists from different related fields.

The objective of the conference is to highlight the current trends in the field of European industrial heritage management.

Conservation, conversion and promotion of industrial heritage can be individualized as the main actions needed to be demarcated in the current period for the "launching" of industrial objectives on the cultural market. In this respect, the targets are:

- inviting specialists from the field to share their experience in theoretical and practical recommendations regarding the preservation, restoration, reuse and promotion of industrial heritage features;
- attracting decision makers in the process of transforming valuable industrial objectives into the category of cultural goods;
- individualization of industrial objectives in the conscience of tourists and the awakening of their interest to visit them.
